

Things you can do TODAY to help manage pelvic pain prior to your therapy appointment:

- Deep breathing
 - Take a slow, deep breath and allow your stomach to fill with air. Slowly release.
 - Do this daily for 5-10 min to manage pain.
- Quality sleep
 - Get at least 7-8 hours of sleep nightly.
 - Consistency with bedtime is best!
- Stretches (Click the links below!)
 - Child's Pose
 - Happy Baby
 - Piriformis Stretch
- Stress management
 - Life stressors can increase pelvic pain, especially after major life changes.
 - Identification of your stressors followed by healthy management of these can positively affect chronic pain.
 - Counseling is often recommended in conjunction with pelvic floor PT if appropriate.
- Daily physical activity
 - Our bodies WANT TO MOVE and stay active!
 - Performing daily walks and stretches can help manage chronic pain.
 - Limit prolonged periods of sitting/lying down.
